At our Rise Against Hunger meal-packing event last Friday, 38 volunteers from Trinity Folsom packed 10,373 meals and had a lot of fun! The meals will be sent to hungry people locally and around the world in times of crisis, providing nutritious and dependable food for our neighbors in need. Thanks!

Vases Needed!

Every Monday, the Trinity Folsom Flower Guild breaks down the altar flowers into smaller vases, and parishioner volunteers deliver them to folks who are sick, housebound, celebrating something, mourning something, etc. We are running low on vases for these deliveries. If you've received flowers and don't need or want to keep the vase, we'd love to have it back. Or if you have old vases at home that you never use and would like to donate them, we would love to have them, too! You can bring them to the narthex on Sunday mornings on your way into church, or drop them off at the church office Mondays through Thursdays (staff are in and out, but Barbara is off on Fridays). Thanks!

7:30am Coffee Hour Changes

The regular attendees of the 7:30am service have decided to discontinue coffee hour after the service. While attendance at the 7:30am service is strong, fewer folks were going to coffee hour after the service, and we were down to one volunteer to host. Last Sunday after their service, I met with them to present the situation and discuss the options; we considered having coffee hour once a month, a simpler set up, an informal breakfast group that goes out somewhere, and so on, but ultimately the group decided to discontinue coffee hour for now and to assess and evaluate over the next few months to see if they want to do something else in lieu of it. Just a heads up in case you ever drop into the 7:30am or show up early for the 9am looking for a cup of coffee. ~ Fr. Todd+

Feed the Hungry: Folsom Day of Service Food Drive

Folsom residents, don't forget the collection of food for the Twin Lakes Food Bank from 9am-12pm on (tomorrow) Saturday, September 17th! A bag should have been dropped on your doorstep; place your donations in it and set it out by 8am tomorrow for pick up. If for some reason your bag, or your neighbors, isn't picked up, feel free to bring them to the church on Sunday and we'll make sure they get to the Food Bank.

Stephen Ministry

If you're having a hard time and could use a person in your life to listen on a regular basis, it might be a good time to get a Stephen Minister. Stephen Ministers are trained laypeople who provide a nonjudgmental, caring presence, usually meeting with their care receivers for an hour once per week for a confidential conversation. To inquire about making a connection with a Stephen Minister, contact Mtr. Anne or Dr. Brett Judson.

Music Notes ~ Stretch Those Legs on the Pedals

This week's prelude is "Andante in C" by Samuel Sebastian Wesley (1810-1876). Samuel Sebastian (S.S.) Wesley is not to be confused with his father, Samuel Wesley. S.S. Wesley is the grandson of Charles Wesley. S.S. Wesley's middle name was selected because of his father's love of music by Johann Sebastian Bach. S.S. Wesley composed a substantial body of musical literature for the Church of England; you probably know one of his most popular hymn tunes, "Aurelia," which is paired to "The Church's One Foundation." Trinity choir has sung a few of his choral anthems, "Wash me thoroughly" and "Lead me, Lord," for example. Both S.S. Wesley and Henry ("Father") Willis, the foremost English organ builder of the Victorian era, are credited with having created the concave organ pedalboard, something that is universally utilized in the United States. Historically, pedalboards were flat, making the distance from the lowest to highest notes rather large and cumbersome. The concave shape of the pedal board helped to bring the lowest and highest notes closer to the player to facilitate ease and flexibility. ~ Dr. Brett Judson, Director of Music
